Good morning, _name of school_. This is _name of narrator_ with a few words of wisdom.

Confucius was a celebrated Chinese philosopher who lived twenty-five centuries ago. Listen to one of his rules for living:

Ask yourself constantly, "What is the right thing to do?"

Imagine how different the world would be if everyone stopped before making a decision and asked himself that simple question.

Today, do what you know is right, and if you aren't sure what is right and what is wrong, talk with someone you respect: a parent, a teacher, counselor, or faith leader. Then take the advice of Confucius and make it a habit to ask yourself this: What is the right thing to do?

With something to think about, this is _name of narrator_. Make it a great day . . . or not. The choice is yours.

---

Note to educators: 1) Alternative closing lines are available at www.ProjectWisdom.com. 2) These materials are for use at your licensed Project Wisdom school only. Please help us protect the viability of our small business by respecting the copyright agreement.